

WILSON WILL PUSH CURRENCY REFORM

Measure May be Before
Extra Session Before
Adjournment

TARIFF REVISION FIRST

President Will Devote Himself
First to Tariff But Hopes for Monetary Reform Later

OTHER WASHINGTON NEWS

WASHINGTON, MARCH 20.—Encouraged by the rapid progress already made in the preparation of a tariff revision bill, close friends of President Wilson predicted tonight that there surely would be a session of congress adjourned next summer. The president talked informally with some of his callers about the prospects for currency legislation. They went away convinced that while the president would devote himself first and foremost to tariff revision, he now hoped that at least a start on monetary reform, if not actual legislation would be possible during the extra session. From the first the president has believed in the necessity for the immediate currency reform and though anxious that congress should focus its attention and that of the nation on the tariff question he never has given up the idea of getting a currency measure before the country within a few months. Some of his friends said today that they were particularly hopeful for currency reform because of the attitude of the Democratic leaders in congress toward legislative action on the tariff. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee is reported to have said that the tariff could be disposed of within three months. Like the tariff, the currency bill when drawn will be presented as a party measure, carefully worked out by congressional committees in co-operation with the president. It will not be made public it is said, until it has been closely studied by members of the cabinet, recognized authorities on the money question, and some of the leading business men of the country in whose judgment the administration has confidence.

It is pointed out that all the work of preparation can be carried on inconspicuously while the tariff debates occupy the center of the stage in congress.

Will Stay in Washington.
The president intends to stay in Washington throughout the extra session giving every attention to legislative matters. He has been declining invitations every day to make speeches outside of the city. Two such invitations were extended today for speeches in Baltimore and Chicago.

The cabinet will meet tomorrow when the question of making recess appointments will be discussed. The resignation of Huntington Wilson as assistant secretary of state leaves the state department under charge of Alva Adee, second assistant secretary of state. It is probable, however, that there will be a recess appointment of John Bassett Moore as counselor to the state department tomorrow, so that he can co-operate with Mr. Adee in running the department. The president telegraphed Secretary Bryan that he need not cut short his vacation on account of Huntington Wilson's withdrawal.

Sees Many Callers.
The president today had a long string of callers. He talked over the tariff with Senator Thomas of Colorado; conservation with S. H. Thompson, president of the Woodrow Wilson club of Denver, and currency with Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago.

Tomorrow the president will discuss with New Jersey Democratic leaders the status of the jury reform bill in the legislature. Edward E. Grosscup, state treasurer and retiring chairman of the state Democratic committee and Leader Warren Davis of the state senate were in conference with Secretary Tumulty late today. They arranged to see the president before the cabinet meeting tomorrow.

George F. Lamont, state banking and insurance commissioner in New Jersey saw the president for a short time today. He is being mentioned for comptroller of the currency, and it is reported that while the president is desirous of appointing him, he did not want New Jersey to lose his services as yet.

Returns to Mexico City.
Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson who has been at Vera Cruz, on the gulf coast for several days probably will return to Mexico City tomorrow. State department officials said today that the ambassador made the trip to Vera Cruz for rest and that it was entirely without political significance.

Republicans Will Caucus.
A caucus of house Republicans will be held April 5th for the purpose of organization. Minority Leader Mann of Illinois will be his party's candidate for speaker.

TWO JURORS CHOSEN AT PFANSCHMIDT TRIAL

TRIAL AT QUINCY IS PROCEEDING
SLOWLY IN CHOOSING JURY

Defense Will Not Be Made Insanity
It Is Thought, But Issue Will Be Made Entirely on the Facts—Prisoner Apparently in the Best of Spirits.

QUINCY, ILL., MARCH 20.—Two jurors accepted both by the state and the defense was the net result of the second day's work of the trial of Ray Pfanschmidt charged with the murder of his father, mother sister and a school teacher friend.

The defense was compelled to use three of its twenty peremptory challenges and the state one.

The two jurors accepted are B. T. Shafer of Quincy, and George Gunn of Lorraine. Mr. Shafer formerly lived in Hancock county and was the foreman of the jury which tried a man named Marshall of Plymouth for the murder of a man named Lake. The trial of that case was in Cathage and the verdict of the jury was that of guilty of manslaughter. Gunn is a farmer.

None of the questions asked by the defense has any reference to insanity and this is taken to mean that the defense will not be insanity, as has been frequently stated, but that the defense will make its issue wholly on the facts.

The state is cautiously inquiring over the objection of the defense whether or not a juror will be willing to inflict the death penalty on circumstantial evidence.

Ray Pfanschmidt continues to be in apparently the best of spirits and is in constant council with his attorneys over the questions to be asked the witness. By 6 o'clock this evening about thirty men of the special venire of 100 men who were reported at 1:30 p. m. to day had been called. Many talesmen are at once disqualified by answering emphatically that they have formed a positive opinion which cannot be dislodged.

APPOINTED TO NEW OFFICE CREATED BY RE-ORGANIZATION LAW

Major Funkhouser Will Be New Censor of Public Morals in Chicago and Investigate All Complaints Against Police.

Chicago, March 20.—M. L. C. Funkhouser, formerly a major in the first infantry, I. N. G., heads the list in the civil service examination for second deputy superintendent of police, a new office created by the police reorganization ordinance, according to an official announcement today. In addition to his duties as head of the clerical, mechanical and inspection bureaus, Major Funkhouser will be the new censor of public morals in Chicago, will pass upon public exhibition of pictures, will regulate moving picture shows, and investigate all complaints of citizens against the police.

Unlike his colleagues, he is not a trained policeman, the ordinance providing that the second deputy superintendent shall be drawn from the body of the citizens.

FRATERNITY MUST DISBAND.
Bloomington, Ill., March 20.—The council of administration of the University of Illinois today issued orders to Loxan, the most exclusive fraternity, to disband by June first. Alleged excessive use of intoxicants caused the order.

This society was founded in 1905 and elected to membership favored upper classmen from the leading fraternities.

DIES FROM EFFECTS OF FALL.
Pasadena, Cal., March 20.—E. W. Brooks, aged 73, a wealthy retired lumberman of Chicago, died here today from the effects of a fall down stairs several days ago.

Representative Murdock of Kansas is spoken of as their candidate for speaker.

The Democrats will hold their caucus to pass upon tariff policy and the house organization on April 7th or 8th.

Progressives Meet April 2.
Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois tonight issued a call for the Progressive caucus on April 2nd. The Progressive spokesman are avoiding predictions of strength until after the members begin to gather in large numbers for the extra session but they figure on anywhere from fifteen to thirty, including one or two from California, to line up as Progressives on the issue of the speakership.

"We are not claiming great numerical strength" said Mr. Hinebaugh tonight, "but we propose to have a distinct party in the house. We are the major minority party in the United States. We produced at the national election a larger popular vote than the Republican candidate. We shall demand minority representation on committees and fair treatment in a division of the time on the floor of the house. We propose to work for the actual enactment into law of all the Progressive principles as enunciated in the national party platform at Chicago, which we hold to be our contract with the people."

Representative Mann of Illinois, Republican leader of the house, returned to the capital today after a trip to Cuba. He will be ready with the Republican committee selections whenever the ways and means committee is ready to name the majority members.

BERLIN SPECIALIST TURNS MANY AWAY

TUBERCULAR PATIENTS ENTREAT
PHYSICIAN TO HELP THEM

Dr. Friedmann Treats a Number of Babies for Tuberculosis and Issues Statement to Other Patients to Await Government Report.

NEW YORK, MARCH 20.—In the presence of scores of physicians gathered from all part of the country, many of them representing city health boards, Dr. Friedmann F. Friedmann treated thirty-five patients with his tuberculosis vaccine today. Twenty nine of the sufferers were deformed babies. Before holding his demonstration the Berlin specialist issued a statement advising out-of-town persons out to come to New York with the hope of being treated until after the government has passed on his vaccine at the conclusion of its inquiry.

At the doors of the hospital for deformities and joint diseases, Dr. Friedmann was beset by a throng of sufferers who implored him to take them with him in out of the rain and administer his treatment. The patients he attended, however, were ones already selected, waiting his arrival at the hospital, and he had to force his way gently through the crowd of disappointed men and women. A mother with a child sank to her knees, holding the baby toward the physician in outstretched arms.

During the clinic a seventeen year old boy walked into the operating room. He was a patient treated with the vaccine twelve years ago.

"Look at my leg," he said to Dr. Friedmann, baring his knee. "When you injected your vaccine, I could hardly move, the leg was so swollen, now I know that I will get well."

The boy went through exercises to show the suppleness of his leg and then submitted to examination by physicians.

NO CHANGE IN BALLOT

Fifth Week of Senatorial Deadlock Ends Without Choice

ADJOURN UNTIL TUESDAY

Democratic Leaders Predict That Next Week Will See End of Senatorial Struggle

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MARCH 20.—The fifth week of the senatorial deadlock in the Illinois general assembly ended today without an election.

With the taking of the thirteenth ballot on the long and the twelfth ballot on the short term senatorships the house and senate adjourned until next Tuesday, under joint resolution.

Democratic leaders who, while very energetic throughout the week just ended toward the election of Colonel Lewis, predicted the breaking of the deadlock from day to day, left for home on the early afternoon trains declaring that next week will witness the end of the senatorial struggle.

Knowledge that many members were absent from today's joint session caused the leaders of the different factions much worry and anxiety throughout the night and the early hours of the morning. The tension was not relieved until shortly before the convening of the joint assembly at noon. By that time the factions had a fairly good check on their absentees and were satisfied that the deadlock would not be broken today unless some unexpected coup was sprung.

Just prior to the convening of the joint session the leaders of the different factions had the situation so well in hand that they were able to advise their followers that two more Progressives, Grunau and Schnackenberg, would join with their colleagues, Lloyd and Taylor, and give Colonel Lewis four Progressive votes on the long term ballot today. This advance knowledge kept the factions from becoming disturbed later when Grunau, Schnackenberg, Lloyd and Taylor voted for Mr. Lewis.

Fifteen absentees and three present and not voting today left 182 members present and voting of this number 93 would have been a majority. Colonel Lewis received 84 votes, or 9 short of a majority of those present and voting. Sherman received 71 votes and Funk 19.

For the short term Boeschenstein received 41; Funk 39; Vrooman 35; Hull 23 and Sherman 20.

AGREES WITH WILSON ON PROPOSED LOAN

BRYAN IS IN SYMPATHY WITH PRESI-DENT ON CHINESE LOAN

Declares He Was Unable to Agree With What Former Assistant Secretary Huntington Wilson Said About "Six Powers Agreement."

DES MOINES, IOWA, MARCH 20.—Secretary of State William J. Bryan tonight declared that he was entirely in sympathy with President Wilson in the latter's attitude on the proposed Chinese loan. He declared also that he was unable to agree with what former Assistant Secretary Huntington Wilson had to say concerning the "six powers agreement."

The secretary of state was engaged in reading the published reports of Huntington Wilson's resignation and the reasons therefor, when asked if he had any comment to make.

"I cannot, of course, agree with the former assistant secretary," Mr. Bryan said, "in what he says concerning the six power agreement. The representatives of a group of bankers were heard and the matter was considered by the president. The principles involved were such that it did not require any great length of time for the president to understand and act upon them."

"The assistant secretary, Mr. Huntington Wilson, handed in his resignation when President Wilson took the oath of office and expected to sail for Europe last Tuesday. Having to leave the city for a few days I asked him to delay his departure until I returned. This he consented to do, but he seems to have felt the change of policy prevented his remaining. He looked at the Chinese loan proposition from the same standpoint that former President Taft and the late Secretary Knox did. I have no doubt that in the matter of the Chinese loan, the late president and retiring secretary and assistant secretary did what they thought best for our country and China, but I am entirely in sympathy with the attitude of President Wilson and heartily endorse both the position taken and the language employed by him and I may add, that I am sure that the country will approve of the change in policy. I am equally confident that China will rejoice at our nation's attitude."

"My association with the assistant secretary, Mr. Wilson, has been very pleasant. I have found him courteous and helpful during my connection with the department."

Addresses Jefferson Club.
"Standpatism is dead," declared William J. Bryan, secretary of state before the annual banquet of the Jefferson club here tonight.

The statement came early in his speech, and the orator speaking before a crowd which filled the big coliseum here dwelt long upon the fact that he believed that the highest accomplishment of the present administration would be the restoration of what he termed was the spirit of the forefathers to the institutions of the United States.

"You cannot cross the United States," Mr. Bryan declared, "without passing through a state which is governed by a Progressive governor. Illinois has just passed one in office, Ohio, elected a Progressive at the last election as did Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, and you came very near to filing out this list of Western states by electing one here in Iowa. Just a day or two before I left Washington a new United States senator arrived. He was a Progressive Democrat from New Hampshire. All the members of the cabinet are Progressive Democrats and the leader in the senate is John W. Kern, for whom six million Progressive Democrats cast their votes for vice president a short time ago. More than this, the senate of the United States has been made Progressive, and the new rules of that body enabled the majority of the party to control."

Secretary Bryan exhorted office seekers to remember that "every platform of the party for the last twenty years had placed principles before officeholding, but that the fact which appalled him was that he was not able to appoint all his friends to office."

He had no doubt, he declared, of his ability to perform the public duties of the office to which the president had called him, as he expected to use the principles of common sense necessary in every day life in solving the problems of office. The same principles which enable two men to live together as neighbors for a term of years will enable this nation to live on terms of peace with every other nation.

Secretary Bryan also stated that he had discovered that one of pleasant duties he would be able to perform while secretary of state was the announcement for the direct election of senators, a "plank I put in my platform twenty-three years ago," he said.

Other speakers of the evening were Claude R. Porter, of Centerville, J. B. Sullivan of Des Moines and ex-Congressman Marjorie J. Wade of Iowa City.

Mr. Bryan will go to Lincoln, Neb., for a few days' rest before going again to Washington.

MRS. EATON LOCKED UP IN COUNTY JAIL

HELD PENDING HEARING ON CHARGE OF MURDERING HUSBAND

May not be Brought to Trial as Possible Appointment of a Commission to Pass Upon Her Sanity has been Suggested.

PLYMOUTH, MASS., MARCH 20.—Mrs. Jennie Mae Eaton was locked up in the county jail here late today pending a hearing on the charge that she murdered her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, by poisoning him. She was brought here from Hingham where she had been arraigned on the day following her arrest. Through counsel she pleaded not guilty, waived the reading of the complaint and was held without bail for examination March 28.

It has not been determined whether the inquest into the sudden death of the admiral will be resumed. It was intimated tonight that Mrs. Eaton might not be brought to trial. The possible appointment of a commission to pass upon her sanity was suggested.

Admiral Eaton died in his bed at the home in Norwell where he lived with his wife, her mother, Mrs. Geo. Harrison, and his step-daughter, Dorothy Ainsworth. The death was unexpected and due, the other members of the family said, to an attack of indigestion.

An investigation followed and it is said evidences of arsenical poisoning was discovered by Prof. William F. Whitney, who analyzed the contents of the stomach.

Soon after her retirement Admiral Eaton met Mrs. Jennie Mae Ainsworth of Alexandria, W. Va. Mrs. Ainsworth later divorced her husband, D. H. Ainsworth, an employee of the senate at Washington and she and the admiral were married in 1907.

Describes Courtship.

The admiral in a statement made during a brief estrangement from his wife four years ago described their courtship. When he met Mrs. Ainsworth, he said he thought she was a widow. Just before their marriage she told him her husband was alive and that she had just obtained a divorce. Knowing Mrs. Ainsworth's straightened circumstances the admiral said, and under the belief she was a widow, he contributed, during their courtship, toward the support of herself and children. After their marriage he learned money he had given her was used in paying for the divorce proceedings which she had instituted against her husband. He also learned, he said, that money was given to Ainsworth. The married life of Admiral Eaton and his wife was not always happy, it is said.

Eaton's principal income was from his allowance as a retired naval officer, which amounted to $4,000 a year. It is understood that his estate is represented largely by a life insurance policy for $5,000.

Bullet Pierced Lungs.
Saloniki, March 20.—The autopsy on the body of King George today disclosed that the bullet fired by Aleko Schinas, pierced the lungs and heart. The death of the king must have been practically instantaneous. The smile which still illumines the face shows that the end was peaceful. It was found impossible to remove the clothing of the king, therefore he will be buried in the gold uniform which he was wearing at the time of his death.

DESCRIBE MADERO'S ALLEGED MURDER

Publisher of Mexico City Paper Says Madero Was Killed in Palace

ASSAULT REPORT A RUSE

Declares President and Vice-President Were Both Slain
in National Palace

WILL ATTEMPT PLOT EXPOSE

SAN FRANCISCO, MARCH 20.—Col. Manuel Blanco Alcala, publisher of The New Era, a Mexico City newspaper generally regarded as the mouthpiece of the late President Madero's administration, arrived here today with the assertion that he "is in a position to prove" that Madero was shot to death and that Vice-president Suarez was strangled in the National Palace the night of February 23d, and their bodies taken to the prison in an automobile.

"The reported assault by the guard," said Alcala, "was merely a farcical ruse and a part of the plot. If the automobile was fired upon the guards were only pouring lead into the dead bodies of the president and vice-president, who were murdered in the palace hours before."

Colonel Alcala described himself as an intimate friend of Madero. His mission in this country, he said, would be to expose the plot which brought the Diaz uprising and the alleged assassination of Madero and Suarez.

Leaves Mexico Disguised.

Accompanied by his wife two small children and his brother, Joaquin, an army captain, Alcala fled from Mexico City Feb. 23rd, taking an obscure route to Salina Cruz. The party disguised themselves as peasants. On reaching the west coast port, the party remained for twelve days in seclusion, believing they would be killed if discovered by the agents of the new government. They chartered a barge to reach Acapulco, upon which they took passage with other refugees.

Colonel Alcala asserted the news of Madero's fate was known in Washington before the hour named in the official version as the time of the alleged attempt to rescue him.

Were Killed Feb. 22.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "President Madero and Vice-president Suarez were killed between 8 and 9:30 o'clock, Mexico City time, the night of February 22nd. The president was shot from behind and the powder burned his neck. Suarez was choked to death. His secretary, Fernandez de la Reguera, saw the body two days later and there were finger marks on the throat. One eye had been forced from its socket and the tongue protruded."

Col. Alcala was positive in his assertion that Madame Madero had told him there was no hope for her husband, basing this fear on an interview she had with American Ambassador Wilson the afternoon of February 22nd.

"Madame Madero and Madame Suarez went together to the ambassador to implore him to intercede for their husbands' lives," he said. "I saw them when they left the embassy and they told me there was no hope. They said Ambassador Wilson had expressed to them his belief that the president and vice-president would be executed, and the Huertas regarded their deaths as necessary for the good of the country."

"General Azcarade was in command of the guard that night. I was told by another officer of the guard that it was he who would slay Madero and Suarez."

Criticizes Ambassador Wilson.
Bitter in his criticism of Ambassador Wilson, Alcala declared the American diplomat had declined to intercede to save him from arrest and death.

"I had protected fifteen American families in my school, the Internado Nacional," he said, "where I commanded 300 soldiers, feeding the Americans and housing them during all the fighting from February 9th to 18th. After the Huerta coupe fearing arrest and execution I went to the ambassador and appeal for his aid. In return for my protection of his people. He told me at first he could do nothing. Finally, he asked me to write my name on a card, with that of my brother. Soon afterward a friend of mine rushed to me with the information that the American ambassador had given a card on which were the names of my brother and myself to Secretary of the Interior Granados and the latter had immediately issued orders for our arrest. This friend had overheard part of a conversation between the ambassador and Granados in which he said the ambassador had said that my brother and I were in fear of arrest. Granados replied that we had escaped his attention, but he would attend to our cases at once, and the order of arrest was issued."

"My friend hastened to me, gave me his purse and urged me to flee. I left Mexico City disguised as a black laborer at 9 o'clock that night. My wife and babies were disguised. Thanks to a friendly train conductor, we made our way to Salina Cruz and embarked for San Francisco."

CORN BELT IN ILLINOIS DESCRIBED IN DETAIL

Soil Facts are Presented in State University Bulletin Varying Conditions in Sangamon County are Shown.

The experimental soil work and the soil survey work done in Illinois has come to be of great importance as questions of fertility have pressed for settlement. A soil report issued not long since by the agricultural experiment station at Urbana gives some interesting data about the corn belt of Illinois and then at length describes the various soils of Sangamon county. While no survey of the soils of Morgan county has been made it is quite likely that the results would be very much like those obtained in Sangamon county. Some facts about the corn belt and about the soil in the county adjoining Morgan on the east are taken from the bulletin and are as follows. The facts were supplied by Cyril G. Hopkins, J. G. Mosier, J. H. Petit and J. E. Readhimer.

About two-thirds of Illinois lies in the corn belt, where most of the prairie lands are black or dark brown in color. In the southern third of the state the prairie soils are largely of a gray color, and this region is better known as the wheat belt, although wheat is often grown in the corn belt and corn is also a common crop in the wheat belt.

Moultrie county, representing the corn belt; Clay county, which is fairly representative of the wheat belt; and Hardin county, which is taken to represent the unglaciated area of the extreme southern part of the state, were selected for the first Illinois Soil Reports by counties. While these three County Soil Reports were sent to the station's entire mailing list within the state, Sangamon and other subsequent reports are sent only to the residents of the county concerned and to any one else upon request.

Each county report is intended to be as nearly complete in itself as it is practicable to make it, and, even at the expense of some repetition, each will contain a general discussion of important fundamental principles to help the farmer and landowner to understand the meaning of the soil fertility invoice for the lands in which he is interested. In Soil Report No. 1, "Clay County Soils," this discussion serves in part as an introduction, while in this and other reports it will be found in the Appendix, but if necessary it should be read and studied in advance of the report proper.

Sangamon county is located in the corn belt and almost wholly within the middle Illinois glaciation, the apparent exception being a small area of about two square miles in the southern part, southeast of Auburn, which has soils peculiar to the transition zone between the lower Illinois and middle Illinois glaciations. This is probably the northern terminus of that zone.

General Topography.
The general topography of the county is undulating or slightly rolling. There are, however, some very flat areas, and also belts of very rolling or hilly land along the larger streams, comprising about 6-14 percent of the entire area of the county. The difference in topography is due mainly to two causes, glacial action and stream erosion. Like most of the state, this county was covered by a glacial ice sheet during what is known as the Glacial Period. During this time snow and ice accumulated in the vicinity of Hudson Bay to such an amount that it flowed southward until a point was reached where the ice melted as rapidly as it advanced.

In flowing across the country the ice gathered up all sorts and sizes of earthy material, including pebbles, boulders, and even large masses of rock. Many of these were carried for hundreds of miles and rubbed against the surface rocks or against each other until ground into powder. Where the limit of advance was reached, where the ice largely melted, all of this material would accumulate in a broad undulating ridge or moraine. Where the ice melted away more rapidly than the forward movement, the terminus of the glacier would recede and leave the moraine of boulder clay to mark the outer limit of the ice sheet.

The ice made many advances and with each advance a terminal moraine was formed. This has left a system of terminal moraines (irregularly concentric with Lake Michigan) having generally a steep outer slope while the inner slope is much less and more gradual.

The material transported by the glacier varied with the character of the rocks over which it passed. Granites, limestones, sandstones, shales, etc., were mixed and grouped up together. This mixture of all kinds of boulders, gravel, sand, silt, and clay is called boulder clay, till, or glacial drift (or simply drift). The grinding and denuding power of glaciers is enormous. A mass of ice 100 feet thick exerts a pressure of 40 pounds per square inch and this ice sheet may have been thousands of feet in thickness.

Ground by Glaciers.
The materials pushed along in this mass of ice, especially the boulders and pebbles, became powerful agents for grinding and wearing away the surface over which the ice passed. Ridges and hills were rubbed down and valleys filled, and the surface features changed entirely. Occasionally there were hills or ridges sufficiently large or the material composing them was sufficiently resistant to withstand the glacier. In such cases the glacier would flow around or over the obstacle if the ice was thick enough. When the glacier melted the eminence would be left. In the former case free from drift, while in the latter a thin mantle of drift would cover it. A preglacial ridge in the southwestern part of the county at Lowder, sometimes taken as a glacial moraine, illustrates the latter condition.

A true glacial moraine, called the Buffalo Hart moraine, is located in the eastern part of the county, extending northwest and southeast. It enters from Christian county near Mt. Auburn, extends east of Mechanismburg, thence to Buffalo, Buffalo Hart, and on to Elkhart in Logan county. The average width is about two miles. It is composed of a large number of more or less prominent knolls varying from 30 to 80 feet above the surrounding country. Among these knolls are shallow basins, giving the ridge a somewhat peculiar "knob-and-basin" topography. Near Buffalo Hart this ridge was partly forested and considerable erosion has occurred, giving rise to about three square miles of yellow and yellow-gray silt loam.

A deposit of boulder clay covers the entire county to a depth of from 20 to 80 feet, with an average of about 40 feet. The surface left by the glacier was slightly rolling, without very good drainage, but it was later covered by a deposit of loess.

Physiography.
Sangamon county lies entirely in the drainage basin of the Sangamon river. The highest part of the county is toward the southwest, near Lowder, on the old preglacial ridge somewhat more than 700 feet above sea level. A corresponding high point is found in the northeast, on the Buffalo Hart moraine, that reaches to nearly 700 feet. The average altitude of the county is near 585 feet. The altitude of the Sangamon river where it leaves the county is 512 feet, while at the east side of the county it is 550 feet.

The valley of the Sangamon river is from 50 to 100 feet below the general upland. This has permitted the small streams entering the river to do considerable erosion, and as a result the land adjacent to the bottom land of the larger streams is cut up into hills and valleys unsuited for ordinary agriculture. Forests had extended their sway up the streams and were slowly invading the adjoining prairies, before they were put under cultivation. The influence of the prevailing southwestly wind may be seen in the greater extension of the forests to the north and east of the protecting streams, as shown in the soil types.

Soil Material and Soil Types.
The Illinois glacier covered Sangamon county and left a thick mantle of drift, completely burying the old soil that preceded it. After this a long period elapsed during which a deep soil was formed on the Illinois drift, known as the Old Sangamon Soil. Later other ice invasions of Illinois occurred, but they covered only the northern and northeastern parts of the state. (See State Map in Bulletin 123, Lowan and Wisconsin glaciations.) These ice sheets did not reach Sangamon county, but immense quantities of finely ground rock (rock flour) were carried south by the waters from the melting ice and deposited on the flood plains of the large streams where it was picked up by the wind and carried over and deposited upon the land, burying the glacial material of the Illinois glaciation and the Sangamon soil to a depth of from 5 to 50 feet or more, the deeper deposit being nearer and on the east side of the streams and opposite the greatest width of bottom land. This wind-blown material, called loess, represents a mixture of all kinds of material over which the glacier passed.

Near the Sangamon river three layers of this deposit may be distinguished. The lower one is typical loess, containing shells and lime concretions. Above this is a stratum of sand of varying thickness, which is overlain by a more clayey form of loess that was probably deposited during the Wisconsin glaciation. The Sangamon soil may sometimes be seen in cuts as a somewhat dark or bluish sticky clay, or as a weathered zone of yellowish or brownish clay.

More recently the wind has blown sand from the flood plains of the large streams onto the adjacent upland, thus giving rise to 10-9 square miles of sandy soils. After the loessial material was deposited over the surface of the country it was mixed with organic matter to a greater or less extent, and thus gradually changed into soil. Surface washing has made additional modifications.

It will be noted that more than half of the entire county is covered with the common prairie land, known as brown silt loam, while the black clay loam, sometimes called "black gumbo," occupying the flat upland prairie, is the second most extensive type.

Nearly 12 percent of the county consists of yellow-gray silt loam, the undulating upland soil once covered with timber; and the more rolling yellow silt loam, also timber upland, is about half as extensive.

Six other upland types aggregate only about 3 percent of the county, and nearly 9 percent consists of bottom land.

Members of the Brotherhood of the Grace M. E. church held their annual business meeting Thursday evening at the church when the annual election of officers took place and the men heard an excellent address by Rev. Frederic Baylis of Chapin. The supper consisted of an excellent menu served by the ladies of the church and was first followed by the report of the nominating committee, the list of officers being approved. Pursuant to a plan to divide the male membership of the church into ten teams which are to take up special work the following ten captains were chosen: A. G. Cody, Paul B. Fritchey, W. B. Rogers, J. I. Graham, S. D. Erickson, Fletcher Hopper, E. C. Aldrich, Nelson McMurphy, D. A. Schaffnit and Grant Graf. These men are to hold a meeting soon to divide the membership into the ten teams.

One of the very entertaining features of the evening was the reading of three original poems by Rev. E. B. Houck, pastor of the West Jacksonville circuit, the title being: "Going Fishing," "Just Whistling" and "Things Worth While." The main address of the evening was by Rev. Frederic Baylis of Chapin, who spoke from the subject: "From the Breadline to the Pulpit." Mr. Baylis' story was taken from his own personal experiences, the actual story of his life, and he presented it in a very vivid manner and in such a way as to hold the undivided attention of his audience.

THE ART OF CORRECT DRESS

Solving the Pattern Problem.

Article No. 2 in a series of timely talks on "The Art of Correct Dress."

Choosing the style by which to make a new dress has probably caused the women of America more worry and headaches than any other one thing in connection with her wardrobe. While each season brings out certain tendencies which are to be adopted by the well dressed woman, there are so many modifications by the different modistes, choosing is made most difficult. And then the question arises, "Can my dress be made to look like the picture?"

If you use Pictorial Review Patterns our answer is "Yes, your dress will be made to look just like the picture." There is a cutting guide accompanying each pattern which produces absolute accuracy in design.

The worst jolt the combined pattern concerns ever sustained was when the Pictorial Review company began making patterns. No other pattern had ever qualified with the American women. Pictorial Patterns did.

If you are not already acquainted with the smartness of Pictorial Review styles, a visit to our pattern department will be a marvelous revelation to you

AMERICAN WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE BEING RUSHED TO SAFETY

American Inhabitants at Cananea, Sonora are Taken to the Border in Automobiles.

Douglas, Ariz., March 20.—American women and children from the mining settlement at Cananea, Sonora, are being rushed to the border tonight in automobiles. Several hundred Yaquis, led by General Obregon, chief of the insurgent state troops are reported marching on the town, which is garrisoned by three hundred and fifty federals.

Colonel Morano federal commander at Cananea expects General Obregon's attack in the morning. The advance of General Obregon on Cananea is a deviation from his announced plan of an immediate attack on Naco and the bottled-up little force of federals there under General Ojeda.

De la Barra Inaugurated.
Mexico City, March 20.—There is little that is encouraging for the government in the reports from the regions to the north in which Carranza, the rebel governor of Coahuila is operating. General Tracy Aubert, who pushed northward from Monterey is back again in Monterey with practically his entire force. He has saved Monterey from a threatened attack, but the adherents of Carranza are in virtual control in the north.

Francisco de la Barra was today inaugurated governor of the state of Mexico. He will appoint a lieutenant governor to act for him temporarily in order that he may retain the port folio of foreign affairs.

MITCHELL WILL ASSIST SULZER
IN PROPOSED LABOR REFORM LAWS

Vice President of American Federation of Labor Will Co-operate With Governor of New York in Labor Legislation.

Albany, N. Y., March 20.—John Mitchell, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor has agreed to assist Governor Sulzer in passing upon proposed labor reform legislation including the bills drafted by the New York state factory investigation commission and also on the workmen's compensation problem. Mr. Mitchell came to Albany to day for a conference with the executive.

Mr. Mitchell's visit gave rise to reports that the governor had offered to name him as head of the proposed re-organized state labor department at an annual salary of $8,000. Neither the governor nor Mr. Mitchell would say whether this matter was discussed.

The governor, however, declared that "if New York state could get John Mitchell to take charge of its state labor department it would be the luckiest state in the union."

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Attorney General McReynolds is the only bachelor of the new cabinet. Michigan will take another popular vote on the equal suffrage question next month.

William C. Redfield, the new secretary of commerce, has the reputation of being an able authority on the tariff.

H. S. Cummings of Connecticut has succeeded William G. McAdoo as vice chairman of the national Democratic committee.

Tampa, Fla., will hold a special election early next month to decide the question of adopting the commission plan of government.

There are still thirteen states of the union that have never had representation in the cabinet of any president of the United States.

Less than two years represents the difference in ages of seven members of President Wilson's cabinet, while there is a difference of but seven years in the ages of the youngest and the oldest members.

Willard Saulsbury, the new United States senator from Delaware, may be said to belong to a senatorial family. His father was a United States senator back in the sixties, and he also had an uncle in the senate.

It is figured that the membership of the next house of representatives will stand: Democrats, 291; Republicans, 97; Progressives, progressive Republicans and Washington party men, 47; total, 435.

James N. Baker, the new secretary of the United States senate, has for twenty years served as assistant librarian of the senate. He was born in South Carolina, fifty-two years ago and was educated at Wofford college.

The states that have furnished the largest number of presidential cabinet officers, named in their numerical order, are as follows: New York, 23; Massachusetts, 35; Pennsylvania, 30; Ohio, 24; Virginia, 22; Maryland, 18; Kentucky, 15; Illinois and Tennessee, 10 each; and Connecticut, Indiana and Missouri, 9 each.

Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois has retired from the United States senate with a record for continuous service that has been exceeded only twice in the history of that body. Mr. Cullom served thirty years. The late Senator Morrill of Vermont left a record of thirty-six years, while Senator Allison of Iowa served thirty five years.

President Wilson's cabinet includes two members of foreign birth, who naturally would be debarred from the presidential succession. They are Secretary of the Interior Lane, who is a native of Prince Edward Island, and William B. Wilson, head of the new department of labor, who first saw the light of day at Blantyre, Scotland.

Jacob H. Gallinger of New Hampshire has lost the distinction of being the only physician among the members of the United States senate. A second representative of the medical profession has appeared in the person of Dr. Harry Lane, whom Oregon has sent to the senate as the successor of Jonathan Bourne, Jr. Senator Lane is a grandson of Gen. Joseph Lane, who served as United States senator from Oregon and was candidate for vice president on the Breckenridge ticket.

"INSURGENT" FORM NEW SOUTHERN WOMAN'S CLUB.

Prospective Members of New Formed Organization Must Give Proof of Southern Ancestry.

Chicago, March 20.—Proof that their ancestors for at least two generations back were southern born will be necessary for members of the newly formed Southern Woman's Club of Chicago. This organization is composed in the main of insurgent members of the old club of the same name which recently became disrupted because, it was asserted, a northern woman had been seated as president.

Mrs. Jeremiah F. Hallisy is president of the new club. The membership list of the organization was filed today with the county recorder. This step, said Mrs. Hallisy, gave the "insurgent" club a clear title to the name used by the old society.

VICE COMMISSION LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

Chicago, March 20.—Lieut. Gov. arratt O'Hara and four state senators composing the legislative vice-commission left tonight for Washington to ask President Wilson to call a national conference of governors and law makers to institute a country wide fight on white slavery. The senators in the party were: Nells Juhl, Edmund Beall, F. Jeff Tossy and D. T. Woodward. They will meet the president Saturday.

Besides asking that a conference be called, the commission will petition for a federal investigation of women's wages and request the president to make public declaration giving his moral support to the work being done by the commission. Plans suggested by Dr. Norris Morhed for the segregation of sexes in the city schools will be investigated by the commission on its return. The physician says the adoption of such a plan would greatly aid in the teaching of sex hygiene. He also urges the abolishment of back rooms of saloons. He would have men who wish to drink gather in front part of saloons where at least see them.

DANVILLE YOUTH ARRESTED.

Chicago, March 20.—Lester L. Bryant, 19 years old of Danville, Ill., was arrested today on a charge of obtaining goods from downtown stores and asking that bills be sent to his father. Bryant is said to have obtained $250 worth of furs from one State street merchant and wearing apparel from downtown stores. He is being held at the detective bureau.

Bloomington, Ill., March 20.—Miss Myrtle Hiltbrand, of Tonica, was killed at a late hour last night, when the automobile in which she was riding plunged from a bridge and turned turtle. A. E. Phillips, of Tonica, and brother-in-law of the victim, was driving the car. They were returning home after spending the evening in LaSalle, and when nearing the bridge, Phillips lost control of the machine. The other occupants of the car were considerably bruised, but none is fatally hurt.

The road drag is being used in many places in this county to great advantage. This is a most favorable time for such work, before the active season for farm work opens.

England, Scotland and Ireland are only twice as large as the state of Illinois, with a combined population of about forty millions. Yet the British naval budget for the coming fiscal year is $271,000,000, double that of the United States. It takes money to keep the title "queen of the seas."

The Holtslaw deposit slip, the most important scrap of evidence used in the Lorimer investigation, has been lost, has disappeared, taken from the important papers of the senate committee in whose charge it was placed. It has probably been destroyed, whether intentionally or otherwise, will be the subject for an "investigation" and the office cat found guilty.

Representative George H. Wilson, of Quincy, has secured the passage by the house of an emergency bill providing for the extension of a criminal trial beyond the end of a regular term of court. The bill is intended to operate against a technicality that has arisen in the Pfanschmidt case, now on trial in Adams county.

The First Christian church of Springfield has broken into the moving picture field—thus securing two large congregations in one evening. Rev. Mr. Burnham, the pastor, is receiving some slight criticism and much commendation. The pictures depicted events in the life of Christ and the audiences were made up of men and women not entirely actuated by idle curiosity.

A saving of life, chiefly attributed to the establishment and maintenance of milk stations for infants, is the result of recent work in the city of New York, where they claim the lowest death rate in the history of the city for 1912. The lessening of the death rate among infants was very gratifying. For every 1,000 babies born there were 195 deaths. The saving of 5,159 infant lives in 1912 is indicated by comparison of the statistics with the prevailing rate for the last ten years. The health department conducted 5, milk stations, at which 41,233 mothers received pure milk and were given advice as to how to keep their babies well. Of 22,417 babies that received the attention of nurses at home only 207 died. The death rate of babies in the whole city was 1,686 per cent higher than the rate among the babies cared for at stations and by the home-nursing service. Many private organizations aided in providing funds for what the health department termed "the battle of the dollar and the death rate."

Under the "Tice road bill" it has been estimated that a farm valued at $200 or more per acre, could not be taxed more than 5c per acre, and that the tax would probably not exceed 2½c per acre per year. This seems a light tax compared with the great benefit to be derived by the farmers. The increased facilities in marketing their crops might, in many cases, save the amount in one year. A case in point occurred a few years ago, in an adjoining county, when a farmer, living less than one mile from a railroad elevator, was unable to haul his corn that short mile in time to take advantage of high prices offered, because a part of the road was quagmire. The road commissioners did not live on that road, there had been a sharp fight at the time of the election, and in the division this stretch of road had been entirely neglected. There was a sharp decline in the price of corn, and this farmer lost enough by the delay in marketing to have paid his assessment for a good hard road. This may not have been the only case of the kind in this section.

The Panama canal, now nearing completion, has been constructed solely at the expense of the United States, at a cost of millions of dollars and the sacrifice of many lives. Congress has provided that coast-wise traffic of this country should pass through the canal free, that all other traffic, whether of this or other countries, should pay for the privilege. The only traffic through the canal to escape the toll is local— from one part of the country to another—between our Atlantic and Pacific states. Great Britain protests, claiming that it is a violation of one of the provisions of an old treaty between England and the United States, and is the only country that has raised an objection to our gaining some advantage from the enormous outlay and risk taken in pushing through this gigantic work—taking it up after other countries had failed. We should hold all advantages made possible by the success of our own efforts. We have achieved that success only after years of effort, and in the face of many discouragement. Now we want, and should have, the privileges earned by our own enterprise and effort.

A FIGHT TO A FINISH.
That the coming of Secretary Bryan to Springfield failed to accomplish anything, in the way of a solution of the senatorial puzzle at Springfield, is a matter of little surprise. Mr. Bryan is not a man to influence legislators of the O'Neill-Browne stamp. He does not carry with him arguments or inducements of a character that appeal to men of their stamp. Browne and "Bathroom Bob" Wilson were conspicuous among the very few who failed to rise from their seats as an act of courtesy in greeting the secretary of state of the United States, when he entered the representatives' hall. Mr. Bryan, while very chary of giving advice, and disclaiming all responsibility, endeavored to bring about harmony in the Democratic ranks, but only succeeded in bringing into stronger light the fact that the factions in that party are in a fight to a finish. The stake is one to appeal strongly to the Browne-Sullivan combination—the division of the spoils. Bryan has fought this crowd on a number of occasions and they have no reason to expect favors from his hands—and they showed their resentment of his coming by the immediate withdrawal of a few votes from J. Ham Lewis, who had accompanied the secretary and Gov. Junne to Springfield.

COMPARING TAX RATES.
Figures showing comparative city and school tax rates are always of interest to tax payers. They sometimes reconcile us to what seems a hardship at home, especially when it is seen that others pay a higher rate. Jacksonville school tax is $2.00 on the $100 valuation, the taxable valuation being one-third of the total valuation. City, county, state and other taxes amount to $2.65, making a total rate of $4.65. The rates in fourteen cities of this state, all larger than Jacksonville, are given:
Bloomington ..... $1.65
Springfield ..... 2.13
Kankakee ..... 2.14
Joliet ..... 2.00
Decatur ..... 2.66
Freeport ..... 2.44
Rock Island ..... 2.22
Quincy ..... 1.61
East St. Louis ..... 1.93
Aurora, East ..... 1.93
Aurora, West ..... 1.75
Elgin ..... 2.22
Rockford ..... 1.82
Danville ..... 1.47
The rate of $2.13 from the city of Danville includes the taxes for general educational and also for building purposes for the schools. The total tax rate, including the school taxes, in Danville, is $5.31.
The total city rate tax in Kankakee, including the school taxes, is $5.40.

The city of Joliet pays $2 tax rate for city schools, and also $1 for township high school tax. The total city rate for Joliet is $6.47.
In the city of Decatur, the school tax rate of $2.66, includes a general levy of $1.50, a building rate of 92 cents, and a bond rate of 24 cents. The total city rate in Decatur is $5.95.
In Freeport, the educational rate is $1.44 general, and for building purposes, 70 cents.
Rock Island's school tax levy includes $1.50 for general educational purposes and 72 cents for building. The city's total tax is $5.03.

Quincy has a low city rate of $4.61, in which is included its $1.61 school levy.
East St. Louis taxes at the rate of $1.50 for educational purposes and 43 cents for buildings. This city's total tax rate is $7.40, and its total assessed valuation is $13,300,000.
In Aurora the levy of $1.93 for the east side includes $1.50 general purposes and 43 cents buildings. On the west side in the same city there is $1.45 general school levy and 30 cents for buildings.

Elgin's school levy is $1.17 for general purposes and $1.05 for buildings. The city's total tax rate is $4.65.
THE TEMPERATURES.
The temperatures for Thursday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexander, were: maximum, 49; minimum, 32.

Sensational details have one by one arisen about the recent death of Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton near Norwell, Mass., which was alleged to have been due to poisoning. Among the various elements in the case is the statement frequently made by neighbors that Dorothy Ainsworth, one of the rear admiral's two stepdaughters, had always been his favorite. Miss Ainsworth has figured as one of the leading witnesses to be called on in the investigation. Above is a picture of the young woman, with a smaller picture of the ill fated rear admiral.

LETTER FROM DR. RAMMELKAMPTo the Editor of the Journal, Jacksonville, Ill.
My Dear Sir:In your issue of last Wednesday there appeared an article to the effect that the proposed State Educational Building at Springfield. The article purported to give the substance of a bill which is in preparation on this subject. I believe it is important to call attention to an omission which occurred in your account of the proposed Educational Building. Your article referred to the state natural history museum and the state memorial museum, as the departments which were to be housed in this new building but made no mention of the State Historical Library. As a matter of fact the State Historical Library including a proposed State Department of Archives will constitute one of the chief divisions of the building. I may add that it has been suggested that the State Educational and Historical Building should be built as the most appropriate celebration of the centennial anniversary of the State of Illinois in 1918.

COURT FINDINGS MADE KNOWN IN VARIOUS CASES*DeFrates Damage Proceedings Against Telephone Company is Unchanged—Two Morgan County Suits.The appellate court has decided the case of Alvin DeFrates of Springfield who brought suit against the Central Union Telephone Co. The case is remarkable from the fact that it already has passed through all the courts of competent jurisdiction from the circuit to the appellate court and thence to the supreme court and was on its second trip when it was halted by yesterday's decision. At the last trial in the circuit court the plaintiff was awarded judgment for $3,000. De-Frates was injured by a falling pole while stringing wires for the Central Union Telephone company. He sued for damages. The question raised was as to whether the company was responsible because the pole which he ascended was rotten and fell with him or whether he should have investigated for himself. As no additional evidence of liability on the part of the employer was shown on this appeal, the court finds that the judgment of the supreme court, which reversed the finding of the circuit court, was conclusive and entered an order of reversal.In the case of the LaCrosse Lum-finding of the circuit court was affirmed. Another Morgan county steamship in the direct service to be operated by the Canadian Pacific rail road between Austria and Canada is scheduled to sail today from Trieste for St. John. The inauguration of this service is expected to have consequences of a most important and far reaching nature. If present predictions are fulfilled it will mark the beginning of a rate war that will eventually involve all of the great lines engaged in the transatlantic traffic. In order to establish its new line the Canadian Pacific company withdrew from the North Atlantic passenger conference, which has long controlled the steamship rates.

In taking an independent course the Canadian Pacific has the hearty cooperation of the Austrian government. The latter is determined to secure for its port of Trieste a fair share of the emigrant and other traffic, of which the German ports have enjoyed a virtual monopoly.TO END GREYNA MARRIAGESNew Orleans, March 20.—Acting on the recommendation of a committee appointed to investigate the subject, the Era club, a woman's organization of this city, decided at a meeting today to launch a campaign to abolish the notorious Greyne marriages. For many years Greyne, which is across the river from New Orleans, has been the mecca of all persons in this vicinity desiring a speedy wedding. Marrying justices were conveniently at hand when the Terryboat from New Orleans arrived, ready to tie the knot without loss of time and with few questions asked.
The investigations of the club, however, have convinced them that the majority of the Greyne matches resulted in misery and unhappiness, hence they have decided to use their best efforts to put an end to the custom.Bowels Get Weak
As Age Advances*The First Necessity is to Keep the Bowels Gently Open With a Mild Laxative Tonic.Healthy old age is so absolutely dependent upon the condition of the bowels that great care should be taken to see that they act regularly.
The fact is that as age advances the stomach muscles become weak and inactive and the liver does not store up the juices that are necessary to prompt digestion.Some help can be obtained by eating easily digested foods and by plenty of exercise, but this latter is irksome to most elderly people. One thing is certain, that a state of constipation should always be avoided as it is dangerous to life and health.
The best plan is to take a mild laxative as often as is deemed necessary.
But with equal certainty it is suggested that cathartics, purgatives, physics, salts and pills be avoided, as they do but temporary good and are so harsh as to be a shock to a delicate system.A much better plan, and one that thousands of elderly people are following, is to take a gentle laxative-tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which acts as nearly like nature as is possible. In fact, the tendency of this remedy is to strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles and so train them to act naturally again, when medicines of all kinds can usually be dispensed with. This is the opinion of many people of different ages, among them Mr. O. P. Miller, Baroda, Mich., who writes: "I am 80 years old and have been constipated for many years. Since receiving two 50c bottles and find that it is the just what you claim it to the very letter. I can not recommend it too highly."A bottle can be bought of any drug gist at fifty cents or one dollar.

People usually buy the fifty cent size first, and then, having convinced themselves of its merits they buy the dollar size, which is more economical. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. Any elderly person can follow these suggestions with safety and the assurance of good results.If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address —a postal will do—to Dr. W. B.

will be mailed you.Mr. Farmer,*You are Looking for the Best

BELIEVES TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOLS BEST

D. A. HOLLISTER OF ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY GIVES VIEWS.

Argues That Such Schools Can Provide More Courses and Equipment and That Burden of Taxation is More Evenly Distributed—List of Schools in Illinois is Given.

As mentioned in the Journal yesterday a number of persons are discussing the question of a township high school district which shall include Jacksonville and it is very probable that the question will be put to a vote some weeks later on. There are doubtless good arguments both for and against the township high school proposition and the Journal would be glad to print views of anyone on the subject.

The University of Illinois recently issued a bulletin prepared by Horace D. Hollister on the township high school question. Mr. Hollister is strongly in favor of such schools and bases his opinion on a careful study of the situation. The following list of schools in Illinois and the other matter bearing on the subject are from the bulletin prepared by Mr. Hollister.

"Of the high schools from which full reports were had twenty-seven reported little or no opposition to the establishment of the township high school. Twenty-two reported strong opposition at first. In some cases a second or third vote was necessary in order to carry the proposition. In this connection it is a notable fact that the more people learned about the nature and advantages of the township high school the more these schools have grown in favor. Reports from all the fully established schools show that with the realization of the many advantages gained the opposition in township districts has nearly all died out.

Sources of Opposition. A Reasonable View.

"One of the chief sources of this opposition has been from the owners of farm lands either residing on and operating their own farms or living in the towns belonging to the class known as retired farmers. In a number of such cases it has been claimed that villages and towns were trying to throw the cost of their schools upon the farmers. In several cases threats of boycotting have been used as a means of defeating the establishment of such a free high school.

"It does not seem likely that any one acquainted with all the facts would take such an attitude against the establishment of an institution so beneficial to all concerned whether his home be in the country or in the town. In the first place the people in the towns, if we except the retired farmer, are there to serve the farmers of the community. Otherwise the town would not exist. It is through this service that the farmer is able to have those wants supplied which he has not time nor facilities for supplying himself. It is through this necessary division of labor that he gets his produce to market; secures his clothing groceries, farming implements and building materials; gets his mail, telephone and telegraphic service; receives his medical, legal and spiritual advice in the community. In other words, the town is an essential part of the larger community embracing with it the surrounding farms.

"In the second place no public school is maintained solely by those who patronize it. It is maintained at the expense of all and for the common good. The high school is strictly speaking, more in the nature of a common good than even the elementary school. As has been shown in the introductory pages of this bulletin the high school contributes most directly of all to the common wealth through the supply of that intelligence and skill demanded in the conduct of modern industries, and in fulfilling the duties of citizenship.

Should Divide Cost.

"Why, then should the people of the towns be called upon to bear all the burden of sustaining the high schools of the state? Experience plainly shows that values in real property of rural communities increase with the growth of prosperity of the towns which are their business and educational centers. Why in this? Are the farms, then, to reap all the advantages without bearing their portion of the cost? Surely this is not the American idea of the equitable distribution of the cost of maintaining those educational facilities upon which, essentially, our democratic institutions are known to rest and to depend for their security.

"In all cases where township high schools have been established the facilities for doing good modern high school work have been greatly increased. Out of fifty-eight high schools reporting in 1912, forty-one offered manual training, thirty-five domestic science, twenty-three agriculture, thirty-two drawing, and twenty-three music. What further demonstration do we need to show the place which this type of high school is coming to hold among the educational interests of our great state? Is it any wonder that there is such a rapid increase in numbers in recent years as is indicated by the dates of establishment as given in the above table?

In most cases, also, the attendance has increased largely. Biggsville, a small village, was able to have only one and a half years of high school before the township high school was organized. Now it furnishes a well organized high school for the children of the township and even outside the township. Taylorville had practically no high school up to the establishment of the township school in 1899. Now it is one of the notable high schools of the state. The same may be said of Harvey, Harrisburg, Bridgeport, Marissa, Elorado, Murphysboro, Streator, LaGrange, Evanston.

Other Advantages of the Plan.

"The township high school plan as provided for in the statutes of Illinois has a peculiar advantage over other plans of distributing the cost of high schools. This advantage is in the fact that it permits the direct participation in its organization and its government of all the people contributing to its support. Thus it becomes possible to have high schools whose courses provide not alone for the interests of the city child but also for the interests of the farmers' sons and daughters and for country life in general.

"This latter point is well illustrated by the fact that most of the Illinois high schools that are now offering courses in agriculture are township high schools. The demand is growing more and more insistent for such courses as shall put the children from the farms more closely in touch with the possibilities of farm life. The towns can not alone organize such courses. It is only through the co-operation of larger groups with reference to this growing demand for the vocational subjects in the education of our youth.

"By means of the township high school such organization not only becomes feasible but also gives the farmers a voice in the establishment of such courses as the interests of agriculture demand. The people of Illinois certainly do not believe in a system of high schools organized in to separate types for the different industries. We want all the boys and girls to have a chance to find themselves, to follow the lines for which nature has endowed them, by having at hand in the high school which they attend all possible courses of preparation. How, otherwise, are we to prevent the establishment of class distinctions along lines of the occupations, like the caste systems of European countries? How else shall we maintain the true spirit of a democracy?

"A strong township high school invariably stimulates the work of all the rural schools that are tributary to it, thus making these schools much more effective. This same effect is noticeable also with reference to the local elementary schools of the city or town in which the township high school is located. The establishment of a distinct institution with a building of some note and constructed and equipped for special work of the high school, together with the higher grade of teaching ability usually employed in these schools, acts as a powerful stimulus to the grades below the high school. At the same time it has the general effect of raising the standard of educational ideals which prevail in the entire community to which a high school ministers.

"The money that is invested in these schools is more than returned in the increased values of real estate, by nothing of greater return which comes from the increase of skill and of intelligence which is sure to be returned to every community which supports good schools. It is the superior intelligence of the American farmer which gives him what ever advantage he has over the European peasant. In order to maintain this advantage, and to make it possible for the farmers' interests to be intelligently represented in all public concerns, the boys and girls of the farm must be given educational opportunities in every way equal to those of the cities and towns.

"The relatively low cost of schools in the rural districts is notorious. Why should the people of the cities and towns be expected to bear the entire burden of supporting the high school? Or why should the individual whose child desires the training which the high school offers be required to pay a special individual tax in the form of tuition in order that his child may attend such a school? This is a situation not contrary to the spirit of our constitution and laws which provide the public schools free to the children of rich and poor alike."

EARL BEAUCHAMP THE FAVORITE

London, March 20.—The Duke of Connaught, accompanied by his wife and daughter, are leaving Canada this week for England, and it is generally understood here that his royal highness will not return to Ottawa, though as yet there has been no official announcement to that effect. The duke is known to have a strong and sincere liking for Canada, and doubtless would be pleased to remain there another two years. But the climate across seas apparently has never agreed with the duchess of Connaught, and in view of this fact it is believed certain that the duke has now practically ended his tenure of office as governor general of the dominion.

The question as to who will be named to succeed the Duke of Connaught at Ottawa has become a subject of lively speculation here. The names of half a dozen prominent persons have been mentioned among them at least two close connections of the royal family. But the best authorities seem to agree that the young Earl of Beauchamp has the inside track and is most likely to win the race. He has the backing of the cabinet, which should count ninety-nine points in his favor.

Lord Beauchamp is at present first commissioner of works, a position involving mainly the care of all national buildings and royal palaces, and the holder of which is also a cabinet minister. For a man of his years—he has just passed 40—his career has been one of rather unusual distinction. At the age of 24 he was mayor of the city of Worcester, and before he had reached his 28th birthday he was governor of New South Wales, one of the most desirable offices of its kind in the gift of the crown.

Last year he made an extensive tour of the far east and recently he has been prominently mentioned for an important appointment under the new administration.

SHIPPED DUCKS FOR FISH.

Quincy Herald: There is, it is understood, before the federal grand jury now in session in Quincy, an unusual case, in which a fish and game dealer of Havana is said to have violated both the game laws the state and the interstate commerce law. Recently the attention of an United States deputy marshal was directed to a barrel labeled "Fish." There was no odor of fish about the barrel, but on the contrary the barrel smelled of fowl, which was considered decidedly suspicious. The deputy marshal opened the barrel and found it packed to the top with wild ducks.

WOLFSOHN MUSICAL BUREAU.

Ernestine Schumann-Heink, Contralto, Opera House, Tuesday, March 25th

It was the spell of a golden voice, the sense of listening to something that is supremely beautiful, that brought thousands to hear Madame Schumann-Heink at the Auditorium last night, where they once more dwelt under the delicious voice of the majesty of song." This recorded tribute from the pen of the music critic of the Los Angeles Examiner is only one of the hundreds of similar character printed during the past year in many countries concerning a contralto whose artistic preeminence has so long been recognized.

Schumann-Heink sang ninety performances in the season of 1911-12 which she began on the second of November and closed June fifth; two of these appearances being in the leading operatic roles with the Philadelphia-Chicago Grand Opera Company. Traveling during the fall, winter and spring of 1911-12, from coast to coast, Schumann-Heink was heard as soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra on no fewer than twelve occasions, and in May she was the principal contralto at the Cincinnati Festival. To round out her year of industry this mistress of vocal art created a furor at the last summer Wagner Festival, in Bayreuth, and similar that triumph when she was heard in the Prinz Regent Theatre, in Munich.

Singing for the third successive day (Thursday night, soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra at Carnegie Hall; Friday night, soloist with the same orchestra in Brooklyn) Schumann-Heink, at the Saturday matinee Boston Symphony concert in Carnegie Hall, gave a memorable revelation of vocal and interpretative art," declares the music critic of the New York Globe. "The mellowness of the singer's tones, the smooth flow of her legato, the grace and poise of her phrasing must have surprised those who knew Schumann-Heink solely as a declaimer of heroic roles in Wagner's dramas."

A lullaby, interpreted by Schumann-Heink, becomes as distinctly welcome as the operatic aria of largest mould, for as the reviewer of matters musical for the San Francisco Examiner states: "Not only is she supreme in her versatility, which is truly wonderful and characteristic, but there are few to be classed with her any one line of song work she offers, an opinion shared by the critic of the Toronto (Canada) Globe, who remarks: 'Schumann-Heink has a firmer hold on the affections of the music-loving community than any woman singer who for years past has regularly been a star attraction of our concert seasons.'

It is not difficult to understand the steadily increasing popularity of an artist so liberally gifted as Schumann-Heink, for her womanly charm invariably causes a sympathetic response. 3 times last season she was tendered the freedom of as many American cities.

This season find Schumann-Heink a soloist with the foremost American and Canadian symphony orchestras, she is the fa-tured attraction at several of the large musical festivals and also finds time in addition to singing a host of song recitals, to appear six times with the Boston Grand Opera Company, and a number of times with the Philadelphia-Chicago organization. Such information will be greeted with pleasurable anticipation by music patrons of this continent, who have come to regularly insist upon a Schumann-Heink appearance as a necessary part of each concert season schedule.

The musical expert of the Cincinnati Times-Star but voiced the opinion of working colleagues and public in writing: "Schumann-Heink warmed to the occasion when she sang the half-forgotten aria, 'Woe Unto Them Who Forsake Him' with devotion and impressive simplicity; and few are the contraltos who who have ever given so satisfactory a rendering of the favorite air, 'Rest in the Lord'."

"Schumann-Heink stood before her audience last night," said the music chronicler of the Denver Post: "erect, peerless, radiating power and confidence. Her matronly dignity has an amiable quality about it, a friendliness that captivates, that seems to comprehend many things. In the 'Cry of Rachel'—she was truly the great Schumann-Heink than at any other moment, using the fire and depth of her marvelous contralto as she thrilled in the cry, 'I stand in the dark, I beat on the door; Death, let me in!'"

To recount such verdicts of a singer's mastery of her art, of her control of her audiences is to array evidence that tells its own story; a story concerning Schumann-Heink that never grows old because it merely sets forth, anew, triumphs that recall past achievements and suggest fresh ones that are to ensue.

"Another high light of the evening's entertainment (Boston Symphony Orchestra concert)," writes Henry E. Krehbiel in the New York Tribune, "was the singing of Schumann-Heink, who by the glory of her voice made the lament of Andromache, from Burchs 'Achillius' a delight. Of course being in her best mood, she was even more compelling in Wagner's 'Traume' and Liszt's 'Drei Zigeuner'."

In a printed review of Schumann-Heink's singing with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in Washington (D. C.) The Times of that city said: "Schumann-Heink made a deep impression. She sang with compelling art, and revealed perfect management of her mezza-voice." Baltimore critics were as noticeably enthusiastic over the diva's voice and art, the reviewer of The American writing "Schumann-Heink achieved her expected triumph in the powerfully dramatic scenes from Wagner music dramas."

There is only one Schumann-Heink, and if unerring judges are correct in their estimates, there never will be another. "She is now experiencing the finest moments of her career," announced one of these men recently, "and there is full reason to feel that her best singing years lie before her."

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

THE Village Sewing Circle met to gossip, in their little set, but one opinion seemed to hold despite the tendency to "scold." When vexing problems, such as say, "What shall we do on Cleaning Day?" confront the Housewife, she may feel that Gold Dust tackles them with zeal.

The Envid Housewife

Staid matrons told of what a bore it was to scrub each dirty floor; young housewives thought that dishes claimed more worry than some others named. All uniformly took a "bit" from household work and argued it, while all in turn were loud in praise of what a part their Gold Dust plays.

The Mop is Mightier than the Board

Those "Cost-of-Living" puzzles put the chairman of the club on foot. Said she:—"The Cost-of-Cleaning," too, should mean a mighty lot to you. If all of us combine, to buy those goods that have a "REASON WHY," ere long our husbands needn't fuss. They'll leave financing games to us."

The pennies count, as you must know, and cleaning makes the pennies go. If Gold Dust cuts the toil in two and makes economy come true, why not adopt the "Cleaner way" and join the "Gold Dust Club" today?

NOTICE

To Farmers and Stock Raisers

We are now manufacturing under State License, the best Brand of hog food on market known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." It is far superior to any Brand of Hog food on the market to day. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47,673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

Crude Fat.....10.00 to 14 per cent
Crude Protein.....52.50 to 60 per cent
Crude Fibre.....1.00 to 3 per cent
Phosphate.....10.00 to 12 per cent

What Is

"Sure Fatten Hog Food"

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration. It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuffs, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE recommended by all leading experiment stations. It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sack, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD," analysis as above. It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

What "Sure Fatten Hog Food" Tankage Does.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby saving one third of the feed bill, one third of the labor, one third of the risk, increasing profits one third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, a d more fat, hence market-topper hogs. SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs ship well with small shrink.

While in nowise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy hogs.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A SERUM AND A VACCINE.

Well Known Medical Authority Explains Distinctions and Uses.

"The Nature of Vaccines, Sera and Tuberculin with Special Reference to their Use in the Treatment of Tuberculosis" is the title of a timely article which will appear in the April number of the Journal of the Outdoor Life, the Anti-Tuberculosis Magazine (New York). The article is written by a well known authority on clinical pathology.

The author states that the use of bacteriological preparations, such as vaccines and sera is twofold, both for the purpose of producing immunity against certain diseases and also for the purpose of assisting in the cure of certain disease processes. They are used both upon healthy and upon sick persons.

A serum may be defined as a fluid separated from the clot of the blood of some animal which has previously been immunized against the germ or poison of a certain disease such as diphtheria, or hay fever. It is administered to cure a disease process in the human body after the disease has already developed and is not designed as a preventive.

A vaccine on the other hand is a weakened poison or virus of a certain disease such as smallpox or hydrophobia, which is taken from a calf or some other animal afflicted with the disease in question. During the process of the disease in the animal, the poison which the germs of the disease cast off, becomes attenuated. Then, when it is inoculated into the human body, a protective reaction of the healthy tissues against this poison follows and an immunity against the disease is thus produced. A vaccine of this character is designed for use only in a healthy body and is not for use after the active symptoms of the disease appear.

The term vaccine is also used in some cases to apply to attenuated germs which have been weakened, usually by heating or otherwise. These preparations are also called "bacterial-vaccine," or bacterins, in distinction from virus-vaccines. These bacterial-vaccines are employed not only for inoculating the healthy individual in order to protect against infectious disease, such as typhoid fever, the plague, or tuberculosis, but also for inoculating the diseased body in order to stimulate the production of protective substances when the processes of nature are not working sufficiently actively toward recovery.

Tuberculin, of which there are a considerable number of varieties, is a preparation made from the germs of tuberculosis, so treated that the poison ordinarily produced by these bacilli is killed or rendered innocuous. Tuberculin is really a distinct kind of bacterial-vaccine used in the treatment of tuberculosis, and has been employed both for therapeutic and preventive purposes.

NOTE the unevenness of the contents; also the small amount of leavening gas from the height the powder has risen in the glass. The residues from these powders vary considerably.

YOU will also note the small amount of leavening gas here; also the sediment in the bottom of glass, which is a solution of Rochelle Salts. About 90 per cent. of this powder used is left in the food as Rochelle Salts. Ask your doctor about constant dosing with Rochelle Salts.

NOTE here the amount of leavening gas by the way the powder has risen over the top of the glass. Note how light and fluffy it is; also how even the grain is. This test proves CALUMET has a great amount of leavening gas that it is gradually and uniformly given off. It leaves no unwholesome residue.

FORCED "SHAVING" PAY CHECKS

Springfield, Ill., March 20.—The practice of check "shaving" among employees of the State of Illinois under the control of the state board of administration must stop. The issuance of this order was announced to day.

The order includes all officers and employees under the control of the board, which embraces all state charitable institutions. There are approximately 3,000 employees. In the past it has been the custom of certain of the employees, it is said, to buy pay checks of other employees at a discount, then profit at the end of the month to the extent of the original discount.

Not only the discounting of pay checks, but payment for all other purposes will be placed under the board's most recent ban.

POISONOUS GAS IN STOMACH

Nothing Like MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets to Instantly Banish Misery.

Gas forms in your stomach because food you eat ferments and turns sour.

Allow this fermentation to go on and these gases become poisonous and the poison gets into the blood. MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets stop the fermentation almost instantly, turn the poisonous gases into liquid, and eliminates it through the natural channels.

If you have stomach trouble such as gas, sourness, heaviness, flatulency, or shortness of breath, MI-O-NA will give gratifying relief in five minutes.

They are sold on money back plan for acute or chronic indigestion, nervousness, headaches, etc. At Coover & Shreve's, and druggists America over, 50 cents. Postal will bring trial treatment.

HEALTHY PLANTS

require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which is the most beautiful flowering plant of all—of sunshine—and of atmosphere, seemed never to achieve a healthy growth?

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Neuberg's Herpicide destroys the germ and healthy hair is the sure result.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

TRADING IN STOCKS ON NORMAL BASIS

LIQUIDATION CONTINUED AMONG THE INDUSTRIALS.
Coming of Holiday Over Easter Responsible for Short Covering by Traders Who Did Not Care to Leave Contracts Open.

(By Associated Press)
New York, March 20.—Trading in stocks which usually figure most prominently in the market was on almost a nominal basis to day. Liquidation continued among the industrial which recently have been subjected to severe pressure and there were further declines. Rumley was most prominent of these stocks, falling to 4 1/2, a new low record for the movement. Sears, Roebuck, which developed strength early in the day, later reacted six points from its high price. New Haven after its long period of weakness was stronger. Railway steel springs rose 2 1/2 on resumption of dividends.

The coming of the holiday over Easter was responsible for short covering by traders who did not care to leave contracts open until next week.
Call money touched 5 1/2 per cent,
although there was an even tendency in the time money market rates for mercantile paper stiffened, with some transactions at 6 1/2 per cent.
The weekly statement of the Bank of England reflected no improvement in the condition of that institution. February railroad reports began to come in early to day. Baltimore & Ohio's statement showed a smaller gain in net than recent.
Although gross earnings rose $560,
000 the advance in net was only $28,000 owing to the large expenditures for maintenance and transportation.

The stock exchange will be closed to morrow and Saturday.

RAILROADS NOTES.

Word has reached the general offices of the Alton that the first of the new freight engines would reach Philadelphia in about two weeks. They will commence to arriving the first week of April until the entire order of twenty is filled. The ten switch engines will follow later and the ten Pacifics for passenger service will arrive from the American Locomotive shops in May. The new freight engines are all of the mikado type being the Union Pacific standard. They have a slightly smaller cylinder, but have greater boiler pressure and beating space and a stronger draw bar pull. All are equipped with superheaters, electric headlights and have the Walschaert gear. The tanks have 9,000 gallons capacity. Most of the specifications are similar to those of the present mikados, as it has been found that the engines now in service have given first class satisfaction and that it will be difficult to improve upon them. Contrary to custom the Alton was not asked to furnish inspectors while the building was in progress. The Harriman lines employ an inspector who serves all the lines of that syndicate.

Alarmed over the ever increasing expense of coal for locomotives, the management of the Chicago & Alton has launched a campaign in the interest of fuel economy. Engineers have been asked to help their firemen all they can in boiler feeding. In starting their train and in using steam most economically while running. Firemen are urged to co-operate by careful firing and avoidance of waste. The greatest loss is from imperfect combustion and failure to burn the gases given off after each charge of coal. Firemen are advised that great waste exists in the practice of shoveling in coal just before reaching a station where the train is to stop, and also in reaching the summit of a hill.

George H. Baker, an authority upon combustion, has been appointed fuel director of the Alton and is now engaged in trying to stimulate proper firing in order to lessen the waste of coal.

PLANS FOR SHIP CANAL.

MODELS OF COLUMBUS' FLEET SCHEDULED FOR LONG VOYAGE

Three Vessels Now at Chicago Will Sail From That City to San Francisco via Panama Canal to Take Part in Panama Pacific Exposition.

Chicago, March 20.—The three models of the vessels of Columbus' fleet, transported from Spain to the Chicago World's fair, and ever since an attraction to sightseers here, are to take another long voyage in the near future.

Charles F. Stephenson, instructor of rowing at Harvard, writing in behalf of many students and graduates of universities, asked the South Park board if the vessels could be borrowed early next year to sail by way of the drainage canal, the Mississippi river, the Gulf of Mexico, the Panama canal and the Pacific ocean to San Francisco to take part in the Panama-Pacific exposition. The board today granted the request, provided a bond of $10,000 is furnished to insure the safe return of the ships.

'TIS NEVER TOO LATE TO MEND.

Hillsboro, Texas, March 20.—Heirs of the late Judge Abbott of this place were advised today that the estate had been increased unexpectedly by $15.50. While Judge Abbott was a member of the house of representatives, many years ago, he lost a pocketbook containing $15 in bills and 50 cents in postage stamps. Recently a negro, at that time a janitor in the house of representatives, returned the pocketbook and the $15.50, explaining that he had found the money at the time of the loss and the fact that he had failed to return it to the owner had been on his conscience ever since. The amount was formally turned over to the heirs of Judge Abbott at their annual business meeting today.

A NATION OF DYSPETICS

American People Have Been Called

Hurried and careless habits of eating, irregular meals and foods that do not harmonize, tend to weaken the digestive organs and result in different forms of stomach trouble.

If you are one of the unfortunate who have drifted into this condition, eat simple foods only, slowly, regularly and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic.

Mr. W. E. Waterhouse of Portland, Me., says: "My experience leads me to believe that no other remedy equals Vinol for stomach troubles. After suffering for years and trying all kinds of remedies without help, Vinol cured my stomach trouble and built me up so I can eat heartily without the slightest distress."

The recovery of Mr. Waterhouse was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's livers—aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol. We will return the purchase money every time Vinol fails to benefit. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart naturally responds to the charm and sweetness of a pretty child, and more so today than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a most wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no longer a period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and its use brings comfort, rest and repose during the term. This has a most marked influence upon the baby, since it thus inherits a splendid growing system of nerves and digestive function. And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables her to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, and is highly recommended for the purpose. Write Bradford Regulator Co., 134 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and they will mail you sealed, a very instructive book for expectant mothers.

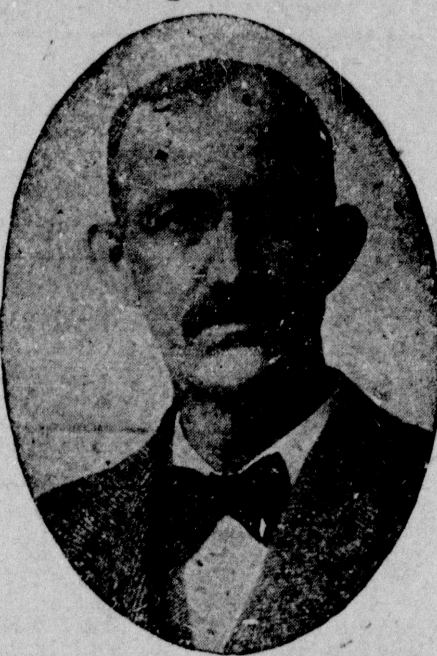

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

"Mrs. Robertson grew up under the best of home influence and Christian culture, her father being a minister in the Cumberland Presbyterian church. She was converted when about 20 years of age while attending Methodist revival meetings conducted by Rev. J. W. Eckman at the Union church near her home, and from that time her life was given to her Master for service, and she filled all the years since then with a loyal devotion to her church, and with helpful ministrations to people about her, so it could be truly said of her as of her Master, 'she came not to be ministered to but to minister.' This was perhaps her most marked characteristic as many are ready to testify who have known her long and well."

"She was always taking thought for others' few if any homes in Virginia have been more noted for genuine hospitality than hers."

ASK FOR RECONSIDERATION.

Royal Ulster Yacht Club Ask New York Club to Reconsider Refusal to Race For Cup.

Belfast, Ireland, March 20.—A request was sent today by cable by the Royal Ulster Yacht club asking the New York club for a reconsideration of its refusal of Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America's cup. This was accompanied by a long statement from Sir Thomas with which the committee of the Irish club signified its agreement.

The committee hopes that the harmonious relations of the two clubs will be further cemented by another successful series of races and therefore requests the New York Yacht club to reconsider the challenge.

Sir Thomas cites provisions of the deed of gift, which fixes the limits of length of vessels at 50 to 55 feet and ridicules the construction put upon yacht measurement. He doubts that the framers of the deed could have contemplated, "such an absurdity as a challenger of sixty-five feet being met by a ninety foot defender."

"The New York Yacht club," states, according to Lipton's letter, "that it would have accepted with pleasure an unconditional challenge. The only conditions I ask are those of the deed of gift for I cannot conceive that the framers of that document after taking pains to prohibit all time allowance contemplated races granting such extremes as yachts of 50 to 90 feet."

BRITISH DISAPPOINTED.

London, March 20.—The Yachting World says the New York Yacht club's refusal to accept Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge has caused great disappointment all over the country. "Indeed," adds the journal, "disappointment can hardly be said adequately to express the feelings of the British Yachtsmen as a body, as much as it is on this side of the Atlantic."

BASEBALL NOTES.

George Magoon, the old major league infielder, has signed to coach the university of Maine baseball team.

Larry Doyle of the Giants has found his batting eye early this season and he is whaling the pill to all corners of Texas.

Owner Frank Farrell is with his New Yorkers in Bermuda and "Chubb" Charles Murphy is watching his Cubs perform in Florida.

Sylvester, the youngster who is playing right field for the White Sox second team, led the Wisconsin-Illinois league in batting last season.

The new Huntington, W. Va., team in the Ohio State league will be managed by Sam Wright, a former Kansas City and Louisville pitcher.

With Pitcher Ray Collins' contract signed and in the strong box, President McAleer has all of his Boston Champions lined up for the season.

Pitcher "Dixie" Walker, formerly of the Washington team and later with Baltimore and Wilkes-Barre, has signed with Bill Friel's St. Paul team.

The Danville club of the Three-I league has signed Pitcher Ukana-vitch and Catcher Bossaloughni. Nice battery for the Three-Lamp umpires to announce. Wow!

Ty Cobb has organized a ball team and while waiting for the Detroit club to come across with an increase in salary, Ty will tour the southern states with his aggregation of ball tossers.

Pittsburg fans figure that the Pirates' chances to cap the cambric depend largely upon Butler's ability to shine in the infield, and Pitcher Hendrix coming to terms and joining the team.

The Pacific Coast league teams have been giving the White Sox plenty to do in the way of ball playing. On the same day recently, San Francisco beat the White Sox regulars 2 to 1, while Los Angeles was defeating the Sox yanigans 8 to 7.

A few years makes a big difference in baseball. Tim Murnane, the veteran scribe, says that several of the Red Sox youngsters had never heard of "Duke" Farrell until they arrived at Hot Springs, Ark. "The Duke," who was a star for a dozen years with Chicago, Brooklyn and New York, is now coaching the Red Sox.

MARRIES EUREKA

SPRINGS STENOGRAPHER

Chicago, March 20.—Friends of Dr. Thomas J. Allen, formerly president of Aurora college who became widely known through his feat of living sixty days on a diet of peanuts, learned tonight that he had married Miss Lillian Suehr of Ottawa, at Eureka Springs, Mo., today.

Miss Suehr it is said once lived on apples for ninety-two days. The groom is 50 years old and his bride is twenty years younger.

She formerly was a stenographer for State Representative Lee O'Neil Browne, she went to Eureka Springs for her health and there met Dr. Allen.

Dr. Allen undertook a peanut diet after having made the assertion that a newspaper report which said a boy had died from indulgence in goobers was erroneous.

DISCUSSED FIRE TRUCK BIDS.

At an informal session of the city council yesterday the bids submitted for an auto fire truck were considered and the specifications were gone over. When the bids were open ten days since they were referred to Commissioner Engel and he was to bring them before the council after having compared the various items in the specifications of each. It is likely that the council will consider the bids at an early regular session.

The decision to purchase an auto fire truck was reached after Inspector Townsend representing stock insurance companies was here and reviewed the situation in Jacksonville as to fire protection. Mr. Townsend recommended the purchase of motor fire apparatus, also made it plain that in his opinion more men are needed in the fire department. These and other recommendations were made and Commissioner Engel will incorporate this report with a communication on the subject to the council. Mr. Townsend threatened an increase in insurance rates unless something was done in carrying out his suggestions.

In talking about auto fire trucks last night Commissioner Engel said: "Mr. Townsend favors a central fire station with auto equipment rather than sub-stations in various parts of the city."

In Bloomington a movement is on foot to consolidate the stations at a central point and put in auto apparatus. An auto fire truck is to be delivered this week in Aurora and the council in Springfield has practically decided to buy one there. Quincy has had one for some time. In some places the plan followed is to couple the fire engine to the combination chemical and hose truck, but it seems to me there would be a great deal of risk in following such a plan where street pavement are rough or streets are narrow. In my opinion it would be safer to retain horses for the engine proper and to handle the auto chemical and hose truck separately. This question and a number of others must be settled before the council will be in shape to decide as to the auto truck purchase. Mr. Townsend recommended the purchase of the truck or the establishment of two sub-stations and preferred the auto truck."
